

Hi,

I am a Flight Attendant for a Major Air Carrier and am extremely concerned about Cell Phone use inflight. This is a safety concern in regards to people not being prepared for an emergency evacuation if there was a need for an emergency evacuation.

Also, with the tight quarters on aircrafts and the way people tend to raise their voices when speaking on cell phones you are setting up a situation for more "Air Rage" between passengers angry with the person talking on the cell phone while they may try to sleep.

Please take this into consideration

Thank you.

William Ianuzi